

"A BROKEN RECORD"
That is the un-nice way some have described the favorable editorials and out-on-the-limb columns that have appeared in this paper almost every week since the dramatic civic center tower concept was proposed in April by Fred Sahadi.

Naturally, those who have used such uncomplimentary terminology are opposed to the "tower" while your editor from the very moment the exciting idea was presented has favored it.

Obviously, the editorials and column in this paper reflect your editor's opinions.

Or had you noticed? Having been exposed to the whims of human nature as a newspaperman much longer than we care to enumerate at this time, we are not surprised when we are criticized for being one-sided in our editorials and in "out-on-the-limbs".

Strangely enough the criticism is always one-sided.

We can't recall in all these years a single time when those who felt the same way we did about any major issue criticizing us for strongly advocating our position in the paper.

OR TO PUT IT ANOTHER way: Even, if they thought, heaven forbid, that one of our editorials could be classified as a "broken record", they kept it to themselves. That particular "record", you might say under such circumstances could not be overplayed, in their opinion.

Maybe it was a little scratchy in places but, in their opinion, the overall tune was still good.

ADMITTEDLY WE HAVE played and replayed the "tower" record.

And we hope everyone in town hears about it. We feel sincerely that not only is the issue the most exciting and imaginative to have ever hit our town, but it is also the biggest and will make the most impact on our community.

Nothing that this city has ever faced in the past can possibly compare with the scope and boldness as manifested by the tower concept.

But we find no fault with people disagreeing with the idea.

It is BIG.

And because of its bigness, naturally, opposition will develop. That is the way the ball has always bounced in this country.

We claim, as you know, that an idea should not be opposed simply because of its magnitude.

It could be that it is about time for Campbell to begin to think big.

QUITE NATURALLY THE issue has become emotionally charged. What would you expect? Opponents and proponents apparently feel quite strongly on the matter. At the hearings citizens have spoken their minds in no uncertain terms. We think that's great.

But, unfortunately, some of the opposition seems to be based strictly on personal feelings.

Some seem to have developed an animosity against the developer, Fred Sahadi, which has become quite obvious in their attitude.

We think that is sad. It is also unfair to the city as a whole and to Sahadi in particular.

As someone said at one of the hearings, the issue should be treated strictly on the merits of a business proposition.

THOSE PUBLIC HEARINGS that have been held on the issue have been entertaining, educational and stimulating which is more than you can say about most of the TV shows that were on at the same time.

It is our considered opinion, as an old pro, that the public hearings that have been held on the tower issue have been a credit to our city.

A great deal of the credit

Planners turn down gas station

By an unanimous vote the Planning Commission on Monday night denied a use permit for a service station to be located at 2505 Winchester Blvd. at the west end of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center.

The gas station use permit application had been submitted by the Humble Oil Co. and would have a 200-foot frontage on Winchester Blvd. and more than 130 feet in depth. John Pursley heads the developers of the shopping center.

Before denying the permit, the commissioners took turns expressing concern over the traffic problems that the station could cause on heavily-traveled Winchester.

The proposed plan would allow one driveway onto Winchester and two from a so-called 40-foot wide "private street" that would run along the north end of the station through the shopping center parking lot and connect with Nido Drive.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that Winchester was now carrying 22,500 cars per day. Bill Helms, assistant city engineer, described the traffic channeling that had been worked out and explained that the private 40-foot street would actually be the expansion of the existing 35-foot width driveway.

Although the Commission denied the service station permit for the developers of the Orsi property, plans were approved for TJ's Taco Restaurant and a Topper's Restaurant that would be located south of the proposed gas station on Winchester.

In addition to the plans for the restaurants, the Commission also approved plans for a storage yard for boats at 520 McGlincey Ln., submitted by Oliver Nelson; a six-unit apartment at 190 Adler submitted by Leo Bianchi and another six-unit complex at 911 Michael Dr. submitted by John Vierhus. The Vierhus apartment is located on the new street created when LID No. 11 was formed.

Other building plans approved included an auto body shop at 920 Camden Ave. submitted by Barrett Little, Jr., and 20-ft x 100-ft. extension for Breuner's on Hamilton Ave.

In other actions, the Commission continued action on the rezoning of parcels on Sunnyoaks until July 1 when a map will be submitted by staff showing the proposed density of the area.

The rezoning as R-1 of another area, on Harriet Ave. in the San Tomas area was approved.

The Commission also decided to forego changing an ordinance in order to allow outdoor seating for a restaurant in a C-1-S zone. It was decided to go the zone-change route instead.

Apartments to go on Hacienda Ave.

If the ambitious plans of the developers for the former Turturici property on Hacienda Ave. as presented to the Planning Commission Monday night materialize, Campbell is slated to get one of the most attractive garden apartment complexes in the area. The project is expected to exceed $3 million in value.

Representatives of the developers and new owners, Central Development, Inc., unveiled plans for 232-units to be located on the eight-acre parcel, on Hacienda, opposite Capri and Walnut, on which the Turturici family operated the "Big Boy Market" for many years.

During the past 10 years, a number of proposed developments for the property have been submitted. However, in the previous cases, the developments were all commercial in nature. A zone change to R-3-S was necessary for the new proposal and that was what the Planning Commission approved. Although what was planned for the property was not part of the application, plans were discussed and it was reported that finances had already been obtained for the apartments.

The complex would have two-story and three-story buildings with more than two acres of "green belts", it was explained. There would be 172 one-bedroom units; 48 two-bedroom and 12 three-bedroom.

Topless joints get breather

City Council action on Campbell's "topless" front, originally scheduled for Monday night, June 24, has been deferred to a later date, City Attorney Joe Bonacina informed City Manager Bob Stephens this week.

Bonacina said that counsel for A.T. Cohen, owner of The Classy Chassy, at 1663 S. Bascom, had requested the postponement of the Council hearing.

Cohen had been directed by the City attorney to appear next Monday to show cause why the license for the topless establishment should not be revoked, based on reports made by the police department.

Campbell's only other "topless" bistro, The Sand Box on Railway Ave. has also been notified to appear for a City Council hearing on license revocation.

City Council gets tentative plans for new fire house next Monday

Campbell's long-awaited fire station on Sunnyoaks, to be financed by $300,000 in bond funds approved by the voters last fall, is scheduled to move a step nearer reality next Monday night, June 24, at the City Council meeting.

The Council is expected to direct the architectural firm, Peterson and Hawley of Palo Alto, to proceed with the drafting of plans for the facility.

It is the hope of city officials that the building will go to bid in the fall. Charles Peterson, of the firm, is scheduled to exhibit tentative plans of the fire station.

The only matter pertaining to the civic center tower that is on the agenda will be a report by City Attorney Joe Bonacina as to whether the city's bond counsel, Orrick, Herrington, Rowley & Sutcliffe, of San Francisco, will agree to assist the city in legal matters affecting the tower.

Bonacina was to have contacted the S.F. law firm this week.

The City Council has been holding budget study sessions since the presentation was made of the tentative $2,764,363 operating budget by City Manager Bob Stephens on June 10.

The Council is expected to adjourn on Monday night to Wednesday, June 26, for a final budget session at which time the tentative budget is expected to be adopted.

The final budget will be approved in August when the tax rate will be set based on the assessed valuation figures that will be released at that time.

The Council's agenda next Monday may also include an appeal by John Pursley, developer of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, of a Planning Commission ruling made last

Film features C of C luncheon

Campbell Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon meeting will be held this Thursday, June 20, for the first time at The Sveden House, 1730 W. Campbell Ave., Ken Mantle, president, has announced.

Highlight of the luncheon will be the film released by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce entitled, "The Adventures of Mark O'Gulliver" which depicts the bigness and waste in government.

This will be the last luncheon meeting for the summer.

Mantle also said that ballots have been mailed to all C of C members asking them to specify which of the two civic center concepts they prefer, the old downtown site or the 17-story tower.

Six Campbell seniors gather many honors for year

Six Campbell High School seniors gathered recently with Robert Culp, principal, and totaled up the results of their collective accomplishments during the current year.

Representatives of the 1968 graduating class included Tim Sapp (Dixon), recent winner of the Gemco Scholarship award, first place, $1,000, in competition with 30 other local high schools; Bruno Bicocca, who won the Northern California wrestling championship and seventh place winner in the National A.A.U. wrestling tournament - free style division.

Carol Benbow, named winner of Miss Teen West Coast and representative to the Miss Teen-Age America 1968.

Mason Sacks winner of the Bank of America first place Scholarship Award, liberal arts division, $1,000, in San Francisco. Mason also won $500 first place award in the A.F. of L.-C.I.O. Scholarship Contest and $500 in the Elks Club Scholarship Awards on a national basis.

Chuck Hawthorne, a member of the undefeated football team and the outstanding varsity half-back, was named as the Northern California half-back and to the All-American National football team, honorable mention.

John Brydon, with Tim Sapp as his team member, will represent Campbell High in the National Forensic League Tournament in St. Paul, Minnesota as one of five debate teams from California this summer.

"These six seniors have represented their school in a way that the entire student body and the Campbell community can be proud. It certainly has been a good year for Campbell High, and it is well to honor outstanding students in this way," Culp said.

Meets tonight

Downtown group may take "tower" action

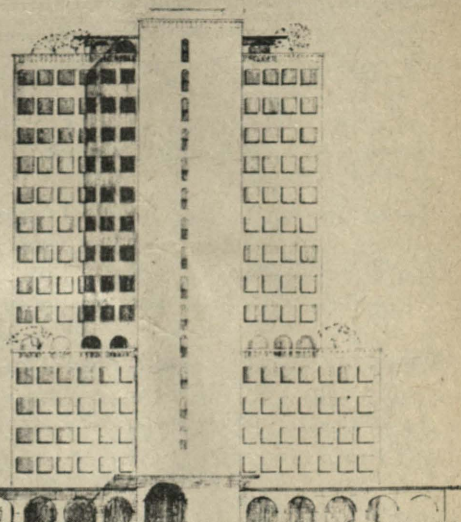

Another crucial decision in the dramatic civic center tower controversy may be made tonight when the 13-member "Downtown Revitalization Committee" meets at 7:30 in the council chambers.

The "revitalization" group is the successor to the "redevelopment" committee that was originally formed in 1960.

John Faber, Los Gatos-Campbell mortician and one of the co-owners of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, heads the revitalization committee.

He also headed the previous committee during the entire time of its existence.

After discussion on the issue, the committee is scheduled tonight to recommend a location for the civic center as well as an improvement plan for Campbell Ave.

Indications are the committee members are divided in their thinking on both issues and may have difficulty coming up with a decision that will meet with the approval of the entire membership.

During summer months

Students develop talent in humanities workshop

On Monday approximately 300 Campbell High school district students checked in for the third consecutive summer Humanities Workshop program. The program of dramatic and musical events will be conducted at the Campbell High school under the direction of John Hall, drama instructor at Campbell High school.

This summer the normally stage-oriented Workshop is supplemented by a full curriculum and presentation of musical events as well.

The Music Man by Meredith Willson and the internationally loved play by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, The Fantasticks, are scheduled for public attendance early in August. A series of musical evenings, both at the Campbell High auditorium and on tour, is planned by the music division. Aside from the major presentations, smaller productions of play-scenes and one-act plays are also being prepared.

The Summer Humanities Workshop offers an opportunity for intensive work in the performing arts to the high school talent of the area. Every facet of musical and dramatic production-acting, singing, dancing, instrumental music, costuming, scenic design and construction, publicity, and backstage discipline will be the core of each student's responsibilities.

Summer Humanities Workshop originally started as a federal government project, but responsibility for the program was assumed by the high school district in the summer of 1967. Recognition of the program's unique educational and artistic potential has been continued this year.

Other staff members include Rachel Ellis, professional costumer from Scottsdale, Arizona. Choreography is the field of former New York City Ballet ballerina, Janie Jones, also of Scottsdale. The Music Division, which will provide the orchestra for both musicals as well as independent programs of its own, is headed by Dr. Raynold Allvin of Blackford High school.

In addition to the adult professionals are three graduates of Campbell High School district, who will be serving as assistants in their respective fields. Julie Gable will assist in vocal music, Roger Volk in

Potential exists

For many years now Campbell has been pointed out as a "city with a potential".

Most of us who have been exposed for a decade or so to the problems and ambitions of this community are in agreement with that concept.

The difficulty, of course, is that after 10 years or so of stressing the "potential", one begins to wonder if this so-called "potential" is ever going to materialize.

The perennial optimist or, perhaps, the professional Chamber of Commerce stalwart, may have the patience to talk about the potential even if nothing happens. But the average community booster is inclined to get weary of this constant talk about potential, if there are no material results to point to.

This newspaper over the years has taken the lead in calling attention to this community's potential.

Admittedly our enthusiasm has slackened at times when we realized that the spark that was needed to touch off the community so that it would reach the potential seemed always to be missing.

The passage of the city's capital improvement bond issue last fall totalling $2,600,000 could very well provide the spark that could set things moving in the right direction in this community.

Actually it is entirely possible that this somewhat dormant stage which has existed in this community for all these years may have worked to an advantage. Now there should be no restrictions for moving ahead on all fronts.

The population is already here...This city has tripled its population in the last 12 years.

All that is needed it seems now is a concerted effort by all concerned to take advantage of the potential that has existed all these years...

Take, for example, the Campbell Community Hospital...a 50-bed facility that has built an enviable record for community service during the five years it has been in existence.

The hospital is not a tax-supported institution and and this city's successful capital bond issue will not directly aid it financially.

However, indirectly the bond issue could very well be the spark that could set off the needed medical expansion, the Campbell Community Hospital is to adequately serve this community.

The hospital already owns the land required for a 100-bed facility instead of the present 50.

We think it would be of tremendous value to this community as a whole, if the hospital could expand in that manner.

Maybe even a hospital "tower" could eventually be developed on the property which would be comparable to the "civic center tower" that has been proposed at Campbell-Bascom avenues.

Revitalization

One of the most important meetings in the rather checkered career of the 13-member "Downtown Revitalization Committee" will be held at 7:30 this evening in the council chambers.

The committee is scheduled to make two recommendations on two vital civic issues: (1) the improvement of Campbell Ave. and (2) the location of the civic center.

Although the committee is now operating under a new name ("revitalization" has been put in the title) this civic group has been around for quite a spell. About eight years to be exact.

And the current problem is the same as it was on the very day the committee was formed.

Simply stated it is the question, "What can we do about Campbell Ave.?"

During the past eight years the committee has failed to come up with any answer to the problem...That is understandable. Obviously the answer to the question is not a simple one...And no one as yet has been able to come up with the solution.

However, some of the long-time committee members, all sincere individuals, are alarmed about a dramatic new approach to the civic center concept which is contained in a proposal of a local developer, Fred Sahadi.

Sahadi has suggested that the civic center be placed in the first five floors of the 17-story tower that would be located on the former Brynteson Ranch at Campbell and Bascom avenues.

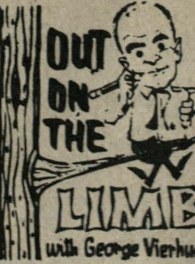

Now many of the downtown group have emphasized vigorously the importance of a civic center to the downtown development.

They maintain that it is a "tool" that is needed to aid the relatively few in the downtown core. A theory we oppose in principle.

They apparently have shut their eyes to the possibility that the Sahadi proposition could conceivably be the spark to set off the downtown area WITHOUT a direct subsidization from the taxpayers.

Members of the downtown group have their work for that, of course, must go to Mayor Bill Smeed and Planning Commission Chairman Frank Klein, the presiding officers.

But the citizens themselves should also be commended. Incidentally, at the close of the last hearing we heard both opponents and proponents agree that the hearing was well conducted, probably the first time there was any agreement during the entire evening.

We even enjoyed the slightly snide remark of Bob Burton who condescendingly referred to the attitude of "the local GAZETTE" on the tower issue.

We immediately asked that City Clerk Dorothy Treve- than make a correction in the minutes.

Apparently Burton had been a little confused. He meant "The Press" and not "The Gazette", which, as far as we know, does not exist.

THERE HAVE BEEN ALL kinds of literal gems (?), witty or otherwise, that have been tossed around at the hearings.

One of our favorites was the result of a friendly exchange between George Farrier, county librarian, and Bill Hedley, city architect.

Farrier, in our opinion, has made an outstanding comprehensive comparison of the two possible civic center sites (downtown and "The tower"). In his report, he referred to how a multi-story library could be used...

That is, the most popular books, etc. would be found on the lower levels whereas offices, reference books and the less popular volumes could be placed on the upper floors.

Farrier, with a chuckle, said that maybe it was wrong to classify the so-called less popular books as "dead stories".

Hedley, the architect, with his tongue in his cheek, agreed. "Dead stories" could be an architectural term...referring to the floors in a building that were not being used, he pointed out.

Thayer Lyons, a long-time planning commissioner who grew up in Campbell, struck a telling blow in favor of a joint venture between private business and a governmental agency, when he referred to a case that had occurred in San Jose a number of years before.

Lyons recalled that San Jose years ago had turned down a proposal made by a young man who offered to build an airport for the city.

That man's name was Howard Hughes, Lyons added.

AS A PROFESSIONAL "meeting-goer" who, admittedly, at times gets bored to death by this meeting coverage bit, we have enjoyed the hearings on the "tower".

And we know you would, too, if you could pull yourself away from the tube.

We have yet to see a TV program that could compare with the dramatic impact the civic center tower, has made on our own backyard.

Or is it the front-yard?

But we must admit that the council chambers in the city hall only holds 75 persons.

Now that is not very many people when one figures that the new population figure for Campbell is set at 22,950.

We have never been any good at math. But, if the council chambers were overflowing (75 capacity), it would only mean that less than one-half of one per cent of the population of our city (23,000) was represented.

Now let's carry this to the other extreme.

Just suppose that every person of the 75 present opposed (or favored, as the case cut out for them.

The 13 members must keep their "cool" and their perspective...

They should attempt to consider what long-range effect any approach will have on the community as a whole as well as the downtown...

And when it is pointed out that the civic center tower and its adjacent commercial-cultural center at Campbell and Bascom would help the downtown core, maybe they should listen. It wouldn't hurt.

After all has there been a better "revitalization" answer presented to their problems during the last eight years?

If there has been, we have not been aware of it.

might be) a project.

That necessarily would not mean that the entire community opposed (or favored) it.

And, if say, the City Council bowed to the opinions expressed by the people present in the City Council chambers, would it be because the squeaky wheel gets the most grease or would it be because the majority favored (or opposed) the idea?

Anyway, it won't make any difference 100 years from now.

But how about 10?

Ay, that's the rub.

Campbell IBM manager to head United Fund drive this fall

Robert (Bob) E. Harrison, manager of IBM's Campbell card plant, and a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has been selected by the United Fund to lead the local UF drive this fall. Harrison takes over the volunteer post from last year's chairman, Dick Hardy, vice president of the Ainsley Corp.

Harrison's duties will include coordinating fund-raising activities in the five UF divisions of Campbell, which have two sons and two daughters. They make their home at 19505 Via Monte, Saratoga.

are: business; commerce and industry; professional; education; and city employees.

He will recruit volunteers to lead these divisions, and to help him push Campbell "over the top". During the 1967 drive, Campbell residents raised $45,964. This year they hope to better that figure, to celebrate the 10th anniversary United Fund appeal.

In accepting the Campbell chairmanship, Harrison noted that money contributed to United Fund would benefit more than 75 health, welfare, research and character-building agencies throughout the county. Of every dollar donated, almost 93 cents would be allocated to the agencies, because of United Fund's exceptionally low year-round costs. During 1967, for example, campaign expenses amounted to only 4.7 per cent, and administrative costs to only 2.39 per cent.

"These figures," said Harrison, "are the lowest of any comparable United Fund in the western half of the United States."

Harrison was previously a UF chairman in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. He also is a member of Campbell Rotary Club.

Wedding plans

Dorothy Alice Benefield

August 24 has been set as the wedding date for the marriage of Dorothy Alice Benefield and Kim Mitchell Patterson.

The engagement announcement was made by the bride-elects parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Benefield. A 1966 graduate of Leigh High school, Dorothy is presently studying as an elementary education major at Ouachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia, Arkansas.

Kim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Patterson of Henderson, Nevada and is also a student at Ouachita. An officer in the National Society of Pershing Rifles, he was the top military student in his class and won a full scholarship for his final two years at the University.

The young couple will both attend college for the next two years following their August wedding in the First Southern Baptist Church in Campbell.

Mrs. Raab retires from Moreland school district

Mrs. Werner Raab, beloved third grade teacher at Latimer school for the last nine years, closed her classroom door for the last time Friday, wiped away a tear as the last child bid her good-by, and went home as a "retired" teacher, after 18 years in the Moreland school district.

But before she left she was the surprised honored guest at several parties. Shortly before the end of school the teachers and parents of the school gathered together in her honor and presented her with a lovely watch. At the delightful affair were all four of her children, her husband, many teachers with whom she has taught in the past and a number of former student teachers who have received their final training under her tutelage.

Another wonderful party was given Mrs. Raab by the students of her third grade who voted, secretly, to forgo ice cream on the occasion of their last party, and use the money for a gift for her instead. Mrs. Raab was also surprised by a card signed by all the children who had managed to pass it from desk to desk during the class period, in spite of her 18 years experience as a teacher.

Mrs. Raab will be sorely missed at her school, according to her principal, Claude Tallent, who added that she was a teacher "dedicated to the children" and her many talents have been a valuable asset to the school during the nine years she had been at Latimer.

Mrs. Raab and her husband, Werner, who retired in January, plan to travel extensively during the next year.

WSC installs Mrs. Van Sickle as president

Mrs. Sickle will be installed as president with Mrs. Daniel Allison as first vice president; Mrs. Boyd C. Fair, second vice president; Mrs. J.H. Peterson, secretary; Mrs. Roy Sindel, treasurer and Mrs. Lawrence Quinsland, historian.

SCHOLARSHIP

Robert George Taniguchi, chemistry major at the University of California, Santa Cruz campus, has been notified he will receive a college scholarship award for the scholastic year 1968-69, awarded on competitive basis for superior work. Robert, a 1967 Campbell high graduate, is the son of Mrs. Shizu Taniguchi, 3965 W. Rincon Ave.

Lucy is a 1963 graduate of Campbell high school. After attending San Jose state college she has been employed as a legal secretary for Salciccia and Ardizzone in San Jose.

Nick attended the University of Santa Clara and now owns a custom tailor shop with his father.

FIGHT CANCER with a CHECK-UP

Is there any chemical that destroys cancerous tissue without harming normal tissues?

Many chemicals will destroy cancerous tissue but, unfortunately, most of these also destroy normal cells. Numbers of chemicals have been found that are sufficiently more destructive of cancer than of healthy tissues to be of therapeutic value in treating cancer. These chemicals lessen suffering and prolong life, sometimes for years. They are not secret drugs and are available to all physicians and hospitals. There is as yet no chemical which, administered internally, will regularly cure human cancer.

How long will an untreated cancer patient live?

This will differ with each individual and with the location and type of cancer. Some persons die of untreated cancer after only a few months, others have been known to live for years.

If cure is not possible, can the spread of a cancer be stopped or slowed down for a time?

Yes. Many cancers which are in an incurable stage may be controlled for months or years by radiation, surgery, hormones, or chemical agents.

What progress is being made in cancer research?

Important advances are being made in all fields of cancer research. Experimental work in chemical treatment is especially promising. Certain drugs discovered in recent years have already proved useful in slowing down cancer growths for long periods. Drugs are being sought which will destroy cancer and also prevent it from starting. Important research is being done in immunology in an attempt to make vaccination against cancer possible, and to find better methods of cancer detection.

Is there hope of finding cures for all cancers?

Yes. This and prevention are the big goals of cancer research. Scientists are more hopeful now than ever before that they will eventually reach their goal.

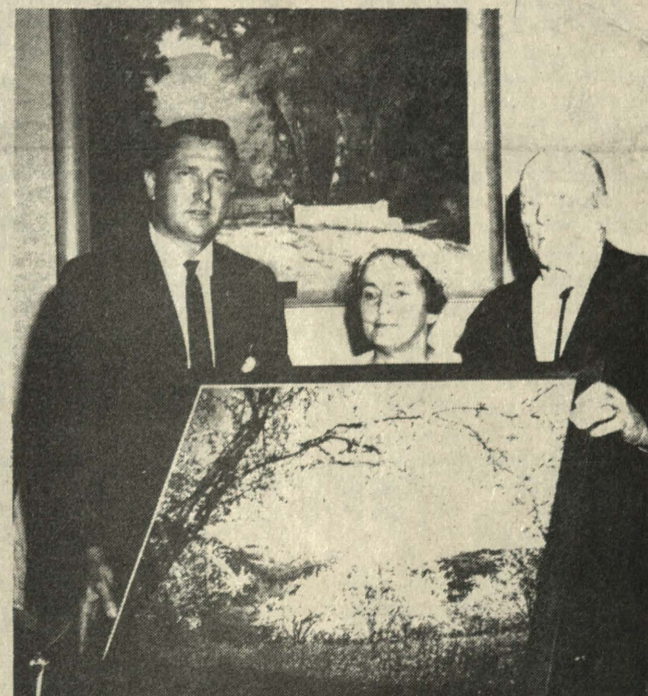

Do more men than women die of cancer?

Yes. Since 1949 more men than women have died of cancer.

Why is the cancer death rate increasing among men and not among women?

Mainly because of the rapidly rising death toll from lung cancer in men. Also, more women are now being saved by early detection and effective treatment for two reasons: 1) they consult physicians more regularly and they pay more attention to Danger Signals, and 2) cancer strikes women in sites such as the womb and breast where the disease is more accessible for diagnosis and treatment.

A SCENE FROM YESTER-YEAR-- A photograph of the Santa Clara Valley taken approximately 40 years ago was presented recently to the city of Campbell by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scholz, former residents of 205 Budd Avenue. John Morgan, Campbell police chief accepts the photo from Mr. and Mrs. Scholz. The interesting picture, showing the valley a scene of orchards in full bloom, is framed in wood taken from a tree grown in the Ben Campbell orchard. Campbell was the original settler after whom the town was named. Scholz has lived in the area approximately 70 years and has watched the blooms being replaced through out the valley by homes. Chief Morgan indicated that he hopes to have the picture placed in a position of honor in the proposed new police facility.

Letters to the Editor

FIREARM CONTROL

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

I feel urged to write in reference to your "Out on the Limb" column of this date. You and obviously many others seem to feel that a stricter gun control law is going to offer a solution to the crisis that faces our society.

True, a law of this nature might help in some respects, but the basic problem of this country is a real need for changes in the attitudes with which our children have been and are being raised. Children of the "Hippy Generation" weren't raised with the idea that they should love their country regardless.

Instead they grew up hearing about what a lousy country this is and what a mess the world is. But even while reflecting this thought in their words, parents were too comfortable or perhaps afraid to make changes. And those who have tried to make changes have been spat upon and often worse.

America, with all of its faults, is the best country there is. But we can't expect others to turn to Democracy and the American way of life if we can't correct these faults. If this apathy, fear, (call it what you may) continues, some people are not going to wait for change and there will be violence.

One person can't say "I'm going to change the world today." We all have to re-examine our values and the values we are teaching our children. Then if we think letter writing is the answer, write letters.

PAVEMENT MARKERS

Bids were recently opened by the State Division of Highways for placing raised ceramic and reflective pavement markers on 9.3 miles of Route 17 between 0.3-mile south of Bear Creek Road and Westfield-Downing Avenue Pedestrian Overcrossing in Campbell.

Form committees, make phone calls. Get involved and make this a better nation for future generations.

Yours truly,
Mary Knowles Allen

Contest winners will be announced at a special awards banquet June 25.

WHAT'S DOING?

Planning a vacation? Then here's a tip that'll help make your trip a bit more enjoyable. It's a good idea to take a few seconds and phone ahead for reservations. I'm sure you'll be more relaxed knowing that accommodations are waiting for you.

We all know how important it is to save time in an emergency. That's why we have included spaces for numbers such as Police, Fire Department and Family Doctor on the inside front cover of your phone book. To always have these numbers handy, why not take a few seconds right now and write them in? The fastest way to get help is to dial the number direct, but if for any reason you can't—dial '0' for Operator—she's there to help.

I was just musing over an article on my desk about a Florida phone installer. It seems that he was connecting wires in a basement when turning around he saw a five foot alligator slithering toward him. He later found out that the reptile was a harmless family pet, and with this assurance, he returned to the basement in good humor to finish the job. In record time.

Girl Scouts

There was a time when Girl Scouts had to know how to catch a runaway horse. Nowadays they're more likely to be catching a jet to an international meeting.

There was a time when, if lucky, they just might get to meet the mayor of their city, or the state governor. Today they might be received by the President.

And, there was a time when they just had to know how to make an invalid's bed. Today they work with the mentally retarded, the blind and the elderly, and teach the handicapped to swim.

In the "good old days" of 1912 when Girl Scouting was brought to this country by Juliette Gordon Low, the Girl Scouts went on camping trips; to be sure, and learned how to "cook one simple dish, such as a potato or a quarter pound of meat"; they had to know how to "distinguish and name trees, three wild flowers, and three wild birds."

Now, of course, Girl Scouts hold regional conferences to discuss with experts proper nutrition, home equipment, money management, and the role of women outside the kitchen and in a changing society. Many carry out conservation and natural beauty projects.

This summer for example, if she's 15, 16, or 17 years old, she may go to a conference on space exploration in Huntsville, Alabama. Or she may study theater, music, graphic art of folk arts, in a camp setting just 40 miles north of New York City. Or in conjunction with the HemisFair in Dallas, she may investigate the ways Latin American culture has influenced life in the United States. Or attend a conference in St. Louis to learn how to help people who are physically

To be sure, Girl Scouting has come a long way since 1912. But, 56 years ago a handful of Girl Scouts gave priority to the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service. Today, 3, 500,000 girls follow the same tradition.

Come to UCB's Open House June 21. Free dollar savings accounts for everyone. Valuable prizes!

We're holding Open House from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday to celebrate the opening of our newest office. It's located in the big, new Westgate Shopping Center in southwestern San Jose at the intersection of Saratoga and Campbell. Here you'll find full-service banking and every convenience, including ample parking and a drive-up window.

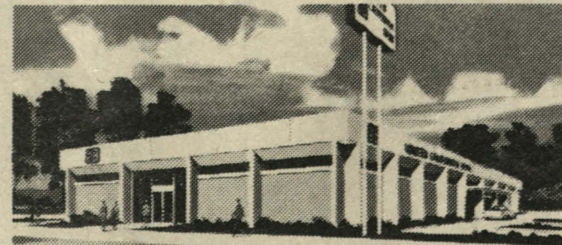

Make it a date! There'll be refreshments and gifts for all. We'll even start a savings account for each member of your family—and we'll deposit the first dollar. You may win one of the ten prizes—savings accounts with cash deposits. Drawings will take place every hour on the hour starting at 11 a.m. for savings accounts worth $25 each. Then, at 5:30 p.m., Manager Gordon Craig will draw tickets for the Grand Prizes—savings accounts worth $50...$75...and $150. Good luck!

Let's get acquainted at the Westgate Open House. Remember the date—Friday, June 21.

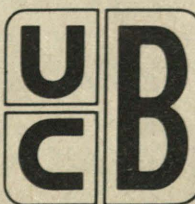

UCB has long served San Jose through our main office at 226 South First. Watch for two more modern UCB offices opening soon at Almaden and Blossom Hill Roads, and at First and Gish Road.
